The Economic Club of Washington, D.C. welcomes

Steve Mollenkopf
Chief Executive Officer, Qualcomm Incorporated

Mr. Mollenkopf will participate in a conversation-style interview with David M. Rubenstein, President of the Economic Club of Washington. They are expected to cover, among other things, Qualcomm's involvement in the development of 5G, the future of the mobile technology industry, and the state of the U.S. and global economies.

Qualcomm's technologies powered the smartphone revolution and connected billions of people. Qualcomm pioneered 3G and 4G – and is now leading the way to 5G and a new era of intelligent, connected devices with products that are revolutionizing industries, including automotive, computing, IoT, healthcare and data center, and allowing millions of devices to connect with each other in ways never before imagined.

The Economic Club of Washington, D.C., established in 1986 as a nonprofit, nonpartisan organization created to strengthen ties among the diverse and growing business community based in metropolitan Washington, D.C., and with the diplomatic community. The Economic Club of Washington, D.C. promotes global awareness of the pivotal role Washington plays in the national and world economies. Its goals are twofold: to provide a prominent forum where eminent global leaders can share their insights about major issues of the day; and to promote a robust peer community for the area's top executives. Today the Economic Club has more than 750 members representing businesses and organizations operating all over the United States and abroad. Featured speakers in recent years have included the Presidents of the United States, Colombia, and Panama; a former Prime Minister of Great Britain; Speakers of the U.S. House of Representatives; heads of the Federal Reserve Board; every Secretary of the Treasury since 1986; other Cabinet members and government officials; and leaders of Fortune Global 100 corporations. David M. Rubenstein, Co-Founder and Co-CEO of The Carlyle Group, is the current President.
